RAISULI IN LONDON.

Bandit to Appear on the Variety Stage.

Raisuli, the famous Moorish bandit, is going to London. The romantic person who held in bondage for seven months the late Sir Harry Maclean is shortly to appear at a metropolitan music-hall. The engagement is certainly an achievement for the management of the London Hippodrome, where it is expected Raisuli will appear in about three weeks' time.
Since the release of Sir Harry Maclean negotiations have been proceeding between the parties concerned, through the intermediary of a high official. Raisuli stated that he would come to London if the British Foreign Office guaranteed that he would not be interfered with, and if a duly authorised official would meet him in Morocco. The consent of the Foreign Office has been obtained.

The acting manager of the Hippodrome, Mr. Fred Trussell, left England this morning for the P. and O. liner Himalaya for Tangier. There he will proceed 50 miles up country in the wilds of Morocco to accompany Raisuli back to England. It is expected that the famous brigand will bring his wives with him. Mr. Trussell will have no difficulty in conversing with Raisuli, for he speaks Arabic and French very fluently. He has been all over the world in search of sensations for the Hippodrome. Mr. Trussell scoured the continents from China, brought over the Australian woodcutters, and went to Italy to fetch Fatima Mini, the transformation artist, and to Central Africa for the Pigmies. Raisuli will appear at the Hippodrome in the Arabian equestrian "powder-play" game assisted by about a dozen mounted Arabs on genuine Arabian steeds.

A GHASTLY TRADE.

Human Hearts As Medicine.

Takahashi Seishu and Aono Kichisaburo, both 33 years of age, have been arrested by the Aichi police on charges of having removed hearts from dead bodies at the Kobe Kiogo In, a home for the relief of destitute persons, where they were employed for the purpose of selling them to Chinese apothecaries as material for making certain pills. They are believed to have carried on the practice for some time, but the incident which led to the discovery is as follows. On January 23 last, a young woman was run down by train at the railway crossing at Kotonochi, 5 Chome, and killed. The body was handed over to the officials of the home by the city authorities for burial. It was taken to the home before being conveyed to the Yumeno grave yard, and it is alleged that the accused then cut out the heart with a surgical knife. Being detected, they were at once arrested. It is believed that they had been in the habit of stealing clothes and gold teeth from corpses at the home, and a number of other persons are said to be concerned in the scandal.
